Essential Skills of Outsourced Business Processes

PIK722-1125 UK-LDN-1

If you can't train them,
you can't blame them!

Short Description:

COURSE OVERVIEW This training program aims to provide participants with essential skills and knowledge required for the effective management of outsourced business processes. Participants engage in both theoretical learning and practical exercises, which facilitate their understanding of various aspects of outsourcing. They learn to identify potential outsourcing opportunities by analysing business needs and determining which processes can be effectively delegated to external vendors. This foundational knowledge is crucial for making informed decisions regarding outsourcing strategies. In addition to identifying opportunities, the program emphasises the importance of selecting suitable vendors and overseeing the implementation of outsourced services. Participants are trained in vendor evaluation techniques, ensuring they choose partners that align with their organisational goals and standards. Furthermore, the program focuses on monitoring performance metrics to assess the success of outsourced processes. By integrating these skills, participants are prepared to manage and optimise outsourced business functions effectively, contributing to overall organisational efficiency and success.
