Short Description:

In today's business world, Interviewing has been identified as a critical management skill. Proven results have concluded that the "Old Style†interview is a failure. Published results show it's less than 1.5% likely to be successful. The new approach to interviewing is to use the behavioural approach - as recommended by psychologists. The approach once mastered will transform your ability to interview effectively. Also featured in this advanced program will be explanations and demonstrations of psychometric tests and personality questionnaires. This technique - once mastered can be used for appraisal and disciplinary interviews. Interviewing techniques have advances so much in the last few years no one who has not been trained since 2008 is probably not currently competent to interview.

Course Overview:

Highlights of this program:

- You will experience the new complete interview process.
- The course focuses specifically of the new advances in psychology and behavioural techniques.
- The program is very practical; you will gain the confidence and techniques to be effective as soon as you return to work.
- The program is conducted so you have the opportunity to build on your experiences under the expertise of the course presenter.

Objectives:

By the end of this programme you will be able to:

- Recognise the complexities of recruitment and selection in today's modern environment.
- Understand and be able to implement the new recruitment and selection process.
- Be able to identify and write recruitment criteria for use in advertising, short listing and constructing effective interview questions.
